

Further details about organisations associated with this course:

www.raymondwilliamsfoundation.org.uk

www.oddc.org.uk

www.philosophyinpubs.org.uk

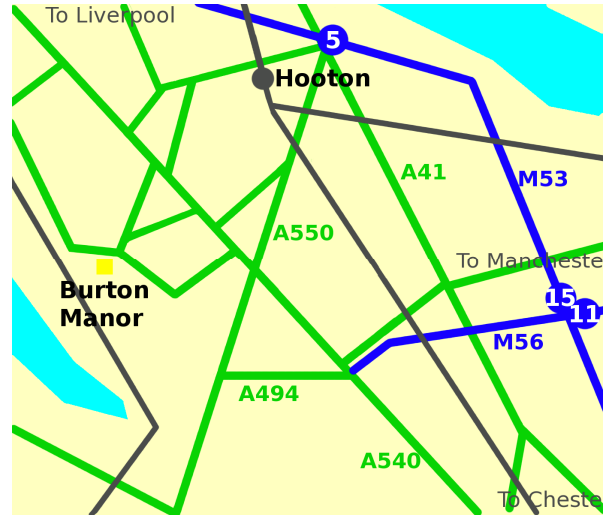

www.bbc.co.uk/radio4/Inourtime

www.burtonmanor.com

This project, connecting informal adult learning to In our Time and WEA day and residential courses may be the first in a series to be held at ARCA centres (Adult Residential Colleges Association)

Melvyn Bragg has given warm support to the development and future events could make further use of the rich BBC In Our Time website resource.

If you are unable to attend this week-end but might be interested in future events please contact: derektatton@btinternet.com 01538 370067.

Burton Manor College
The Village, Burton,
Neston, Cheshire
CH64 5SJ
0151 336 5172

www.burtonmanor.com/findus.htm

Raymond Williams Foundation

philosophy in pubs

Open Democracy
Discussion Circles

Pub Discussion Groups

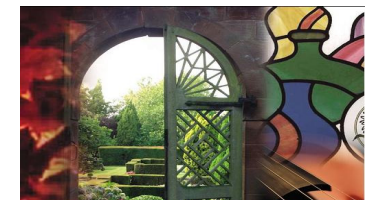

Socrates

Friday 15th to Sunday 17th
 January 2010

A residential weekend course
 beginning with a Dinner Lecture on:
'Socrates and Darwin'

Burton Manor College
South Wirral,
Cheshire

Socrates: Friday 15 – Sunday 17 January 2010

Tutors and facilitators are drawn from an impressive team

David Sedley, Professor of Ancient Philosophy, University of Cambridge.

Angie Hobbs, Senior Fellow in the Public Understanding of Philosophy, University of Warwick. (to be confirmed)

Both were contributors to the 2007 'In Our Time' broadcast.

Rob Lewis, WEA NW Region and University of Liverpool.

Roger Sutcliffe, President, International Council for Philosophical Enquiry.

David Bates, Hon. Research Fellow in Philosophy, University of Liverpool.

Course Co-ordinator: Derek Tatton, Raymond Williams Foundation.

Course Programme

Friday 15th January

17.30 Arrival and Registration

18.45 Dinner, followed by Keynote Lecture:

'Socrates and Darwin' - Professor David Sedley

It is possible to attend just this Dinner Lecture. See Fee Details.

Saturday 16th January

08.30 Breakfast

09.30 'Socrates and Darwin' follow up discussion.

11.00 Coffee

11.30 'Who was Socrates?'

13.00 Lunch

14.00 'Socratic Method – Socrates and Reflection'

15.30 Break for reflection – Tea available

16.45 'Politics and the Law'

18.45 Dinner

20.00 'The Good Life' Film and Audio

Sunday 17th January

08.30 Breakfast

09.15 'Socrates and Education'

10.45 Coffee

11.00 'The Purpose of Philosophy'

Groups led by PiPs and ODDC

12.30 Review and Evaluation

13.00 Lunch and Close

Programme notes with some suggested advance reading will be sent to all who book for the weekend.

As a philosopher, Socrates is the most intriguing one of all. His impact is so profound that all the thinkers who went before are simply known as pre-Socratic. Who was Socrates? We will explore that question and also engage with the Socratic method - known as the elenchus, interrogation, counter-examples and dialectic – his activity was essentially oral, interpersonal, interactive. Why didn't Socrates write anything down? What is the purpose of philosophy and its relevance today?

This course is inspired by the BBC In our Time broadcast September 2007 and the subsequent book, edited by Melvyn Bragg (2009).

It has been organised by the Raymond Williams Foundation and the WEA in association with Burton Manor, with links to Open Democracy Discussion Circles (ODDC) and Philosophy in Pubs (PiPs).

The week-end is supported and subsidised by the Government's Learning Revolution Transformation Fund.

Fee Details.

Residential Course £100

Inclusive of tuition, materials, all meals and refreshments and single accommodation

Non-Residential £75

Inclusive of tuition, materials, lunch, dinner and refreshments as appropriate per person

Dinner Lecture only £19

Friday 15th January 2010 at 6.45pm

To Book for Socrates

Friday—Sunday 15- 17 January 2010

Please contact or return booking info to:
Burton Manor College,
The Village,
Burton, Neston,
Cheshire
CH64 5SJ

0151 336 5172 enquiry@burtonmanor.com

Name(s)

Address

Postcode

Phone

Email

I would like to attend:
Any Dietary/Mobility requirements:

Residential

Non-Residential

Dinner Lecture only

I wish to pay: £ _____

By cheque payable to Burton Manor College or
by Credit/Debit card:

--	--	--	--	--	--	--	--	--	--	--	--	--	--	--	--	--	--	--	--

Expiry

Issue

Valid from

Security			